

BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Arthur Guernsy Root graduated from Albany Medical College in 1890. He was a member and president of the Medical Society of the State of New York in addition to serving on the faculty at AMC as a professor of diseases of the throat and nose. He was on the staff at Albany Hospital and was a member of the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological Society.